Hi team,

I'm sure you all know who I am, but let me introduce to you, Grant Duffill, who is our Director of Health Information Services, and our lead for the ieMR rollout at Caboolture, Kilcoy and Woodford.

As you all know, we roll ieMR across our service on 7 May 2025. Whilst this seems a long way away, its fast approaching. To prepare us, we have decided to send you a joint weekly ieMR dedicated message on Wednesday afternoons, that we suggest you should all view and make available to your staff. This message will be filled with key information that you all need to know to ensure a successful and streamlined ieMR implementation for you and our patients.

We're open to any feedback or sharing of any concerns, ideas, thoughts. Please send these through to ASK KARLENE and we will ensure it gets through to the right place.

Future State Validation Events underway

The ieMR Future State Validation (FSV) Event is on this week, with 18 sessions running until Friday.

This event is our opportunity to view the configuration of the ieMR for Caboolture and Kilcoy Hospitals, as well as gain an understanding of and provide feedback on our proposed digital workflows when we go live with ieMR.

On this week - see Caboolture and Kilcoy's new ieMR workflows

Speak with your line manager or service line lead about attending a Future State Validation Event session.

Online ieMR training is available to complete

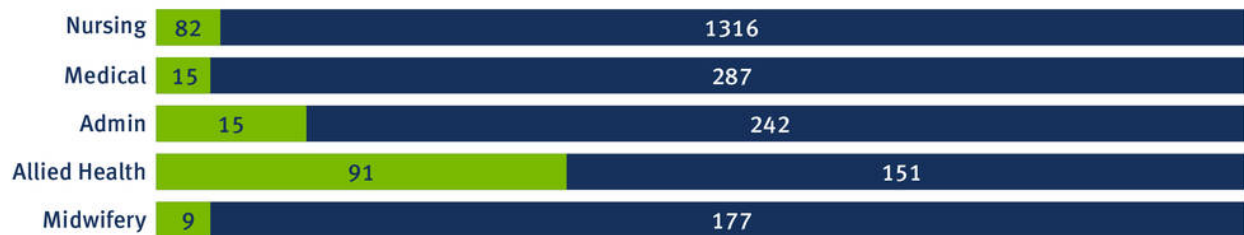

Now is the time to ensure you complete your self-directed online ieMR training via Talent Management System (TMS).

Your ieMR training course/s are profession-specific and tailored to your role. To see what training you will need to complete prior to ieMR go-live on 7 May 2025, click here.

Seminar Room 4 of the Caboolture Hospital Education Centre is available as a location if you don't have a personal device in your work area or would like a quiet space to complete your online ieMR training.

As of today, nine percent (9%) of all staff have completed all of their ieMR training and proficiency, with the breakdown by staffing cohort below.

Staff Training by Profession

Most staff won't be able to complete all training until the start of classroom instructor-led training (ILT) in the new year. If you haven't already though, now is a great opportunity to complete any online prerequisite training required prior to your ILT session.

If you have any questions about your ieMR training, please speak to your line manager before contacting: ieMRProject-MetroNorth@health.qld.gov.au.

Kind regards,

Karlene Willcocks, Executive Director and
