Dear Team,

I'm pleased to share with everyone the first TPCH Expansion Project Roadmap.

The Roadmap details what has been underway and activities that will be finalised towards the end of the year and early into next year, including key milestones, project deliverables and goals.

I encourage everyone to view the Roadmap.

Building a new hospital is a complex process involving three key phases – planning, design and delivery. Right now, we are in the planning stage.

This phase focuses on the development of masterplan options and includes consideration of both brownfield (developed land) and greenfield (undeveloped land) sites and opportunities for future growth and development on our 36-hectare TPCH campus.

It has involved extensive consultation and engagement with staff, consumers and onsite campus partners, with a strong focus on identifying opportunities to facilitate better connections between St Vincent's Private Hospital, our other campus partners and Metro North Health.

Our next step will be to develop project options. This will investigate and assess different options for staging the development which considers the clinical projections and government funding parameters.

We are planning a Staff Forum next year to provide you with with an update on the project and ensure there are opportunities to ask questions and learn more about our expansion project.

I strongly encourage everyone to take a look at the TPCCH Expansion roadmap, and if you have any questions, please email TPCH Expansion project team.

Kind regards,

Tami Photinos
