

Eating Disorders

Metro North Health and Brisbane North PHN invite GPs to join your general practice colleagues and QuEDS psychiatrist, Dr Kate Murphy, for an evening of education, networking and discussion.

Eating disorders are complex, potentially life-threatening illnesses with significant medical and psychosocial consequences. Early detection and intervention can significantly contribute to better outcomes, and GPs are ideally placed to effect this. Join us for an evening discussing the care of adult patients with eating disorders, presented by Dr Kate Murphy, Director/Consultant Psychiatrist, Queensland Eating Disorder Service, who will provide an overview of eating disorders, including the updated guidelines and referral pathways.

During dinner, there will be the opportunity to network with representatives from local Medicare Mental Health phone service, as well as CYMHS Eating Disorder Program.
